JUNE CRIMINAL COURT

Jurors Drawn for Two Weeks but Cases Listed for One.

While the trial list for the June session of the County Criminal Court, in Norristown, which opens on Monday, has all the cases scheduled for the first week, jurors have been drawn for two weeks' sessions.

There are 52 cases already listed for trial, and it is expected there will be more before the term opens. If the second week of Court is necessary, it will be devoted to hearing hang-over cases from the first week.

As there will be no more sessions of Criminal Court throughout the summer season everything scheduled to date and all that will be received up to Monday, will be placed before the Court, so the calendar can be cleared for the season.

Annual D. A. R. Meeting.

The annual luncheon and business meeting of the Doctor Benjamin Rush Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held on Saturday last at the Rittenhouse Hotel in Philadelphia. ## High School Graduated 127 Last Night Junior Exercises Next Thursday

Seniors End Their Activities for Year

The past week was "clean-up" week for the students of Lower Merion High. It was especially so for the senior class which ended its career as an undergraduate body this week.

Class day exercises were held, scholastic and other honor awards were announced, track men for baseball and track were selected and captains were elected.

Thursday morning, June 4, the seniors presented their assembly program. It was a class day affair and was led by the class vice president, Miss Margaret Woodward.

The program opened with the customary singing and devotional exercises. These were followed by a history of the class read by Lewis McMakin and several solos by Ted Lockwood.

The third number was a class prophecy, written and read by Andrew Mawhinney. This was followed by the class will, written by Betty Gane, and read by Elizabeth English. The will left to the junior class most of the seniors good points and few not so good. It recounted in general the activities of the class of 1925 throughout its four years at Lower Merion.

Adolf Shaeffer, president of the Lower Merion Alumni, was the next speaker on the program. He extended the graduates an invitation to join this most important association. He also announced the date of the yearly meeting, which is to be held on Saturday evening, June 13, at the Senior High School.

Following the class day exercises, Herbert Slaughter was awarded a book, "From Immigrant to Better," by the Phi Beta Kappa Association of Philadelphia. This honor was conferred upon him in recognition of his standing as the student of the graduating class with the highest average for four years in Latin.

The award was one of many honors for Slaughter. Last week he was selected by the faculty as class orator for the seniors. He was also given a diploma by the State Commission on the National Oratorical Contest, for having delivered the most thoughtful and in-depth of the United States in a district oratorical contest this spring. In addition to this he was made class valedictorian for general excellence in his studies.

The baseball and track teams also ended their activities this week. In baseball lettermen were announced and a captain elected early in the week.

Jimmy Faulk, who was selected captain of the basketball team last winter, was elected to lead the nine next season. This is the first time in years that an athlete has been honored by selection as leader of two major sports teams in one year.

Directors Elect.

The Board of Directors of the Women's Community Club have elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

President, Mrs. C. P. Fowler.

Vice President, Mrs. James W. Darville.

Secretary, Mrs. Neele C. Anderson.

Treasurer, Mrs. Ralph S. Dunne.

Missionary Meeting.

The Women's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Church will meet in the church Thursday, June 18.

A covered dish luncheon will be served at 12, followed by regular meeting at 2.30. All members and friends are cordially invited.

Crowell Gets Four Games.

Wilmer G. Crowell, of Narberth, former Swarthmore star, has been selected to referee in four of Pennsylvania's football games next fall, including the Yale contest at New Haven. Crowell will also officiate in the Ursinus-Brown and Pittsburgh games. He is manager of the Narberth Main Line League baseball nine.

Many Narberth Students in Largest Class

Lower Merion High School graduated the largest class in its history at commencement exercises which were held in the auditorium of the Junior High School in Ardmore last evening.

One hundred and twenty-seven seniors received their diplomas. This is 17 more than the 110 of last year which was the previous high record.

At the exercises four honor students took part. They were Catherine Stewart Phillips, of Bryn Mawr, who gave the salutatory; Herbert Joseph Slaughter, of Ardmore, valedictorian; Edward J. Lockwood, of Bryn Mawr, class orator, and Edwina T. Brown, class essayist.

These officers last year were: Salutatorian, Mary J. Russ; valedictorian, Catherine E. Higgs; class orator, Marcus Golding, and class essayist, Louisa Young.

F. Curtis Dohan, president of the senior class, presented to Principal Pennypacker the gift of the graduating class, an iron scoreboard set in concrete for the Lower Merion athletic field.

Scholarships and honor awards which were given to members of the graduating class were announced the past week. The Dr. Frank P. K. Barker Medal, given to the student with the highest scholastic standing, was presented to Herbert Slaughter.

The three historical essay prizes offered by the Alumni Association went to the following students: Emma Trend, first prize; Herbert Slaughter, second prize; Catherine Phillips, third prize.

The Charles B. Pennypacker cup for the boy who has been the biggest influence in his class was presented to Edward Lockwood.

The annual prize in poetry offered by Miss Florence Kerrigan was awarded this year to John Morton. The Ardmore Autocar Company's scholarship for girls was given to Catherine S. Phillips, while the Autocar's scholarship to boys was presented to Edward J. Lockwood, of Bryn Mawr.

The Bryn Mawr Business Men's scholarship was awarded to Andrew Mawhinney, the Bryn Mawr Woman's Club scholarship to Dorothy Kavanagh and the Harvard scholarship offered by the Harvard Club of Philadelphia to Herbert Slaughter.

The Bryn Mawr College scholarship was offered to Josephine Cook. The condition accompanying this award is that the recipient pass the entrance examinations to the college which will be held on June 15.

In athletic honors, sweaters of distinction were given to Edward Lockwood and Paul Scull. These sweaters, which are awarded by the athletic association, are given to the boys of the graduating class who have won their letters in the four major sports, football, basketball, track and baseball and to those who

PARENTS' NIGHT

New Departure a Successful Commencement Feature.

Parents' Night, a new feature of Commencement Week at Lower Merion High School, was inaugurated on Tuesday evening. The entertainment was provided by the Players' Club of the junior class. They presented two plays, "The Neighbors" and "Representing Barrett, Cox & Co.," a comedy in three acts.

Between acts the orchestra, under the direction of Judson Eldredge, rendered some very excellent music and Mildred Warthen sang an old Negro folk song and received much applause. The plays were considered very excellent by all the parents. The furnishings for the plays were kindly supplied by Herbert Pioch, upholsterer, of Ardmore.

Afterwards, the parents had the opportunity to see the art, dressmaking and manual training exhibits, after which an informal reception was held in the library where the parents met the teachers and faculty.

GIVES BRILLIANT PROGRAM

Main Line Music Festival Draws Largest Audience.

On the velvety green of the Bryn Mawr Polo Field last Saturday evening, one forgot the exhausting temperature of the afternoon as an occasional zephyr refreshed the thousands who heard the delightful fourth annual Main Line music festival. This concert is given in aid of the Children's House of the Bryn Mawr Hospital, and Saturday's program was the best ever presented by Clarence C. Nice, musical director, in whose able hands lay the management of the entire affair.

From the stirring overture to the last number sung by the large male chorus and Anna Roselle, the interest of the audience never lessened, and the artists were forced to give many encores.

The chorus of 200 male singers sang exceptionally well, several catchy and melodious numbers, including "The Hunter's Loud Halloo," "A Little Close Harmony," "The Song of the Sea," Kreisler's "The Old Refrain" and finished the program with the "Italian Street Song," in which the soprano obligato was effectively sung by Anna Roselle.

Anna Roselle's lovely soprano was heard over the field with excellent effect in several solos, and her gracious personality added charm to the evening's program. Her duet from Il Trovatore with Ciro De Ritis received prolonged applause.

Ruth St. Denis was the very essence of grace in several interpretive dances, and the snappy tango duet with Ted Shawn put into motion many a foot in the audience.

Fifty members of the Philadelphia Orchestra helped to round out this admirable entertainment.

In the program distributed Saturday evening, the La Scala Grand Opera Company announced that it had engaged Clarence C. Nice as the musical director of the company for the coming season.

Mrs. R. Daniel, of Gratz, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Clarence Speakman.

Mrs. Horace Wanamaker has returned from a visit in Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd T. Barnard are visiting in Wynnefield, Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Smith are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Richard Christofferus.

Mrs. Charles H. Shaw enjoyed the luxury of a good half-peck of peas from her own garden, June 5. How many amateurs were ahead of that?

BASEBALL TODAY

Narberth plays at home this afternoon. The Ardmore K. of C. team journeys from Ardmore to battle the Crowellites on the playground field at 3.30. Other league games are: Paoli at Ashland and Bala-Cynwyd at Berwyn. Narberth has slipped to second place and plans a stiff battle today to recover the lost leadership.

Scouts Found Cool Spot Saturday

79 of Narberth's Youth Went to Camp

Seventy-nine accepted the invitation of William C. Claghorn, chairman of the Troop Committee to visit Camp Claghorn last Saturday. Sixty-five of this number were Boy Scouts. The others were members of the committee and friends of the boys who donated their cars for the trip.

Of the latter, J. J. Cabrey, Robert Caldwell, J. W. Ferguson, Andrew Green, E. S. Haws, A. R. Kneibler, P. J. Newmaker, Frank H. Valette and F. T. Van Auker helped a lot by furnishing the transportation for the expedition.

Some of the boys were lucky enough to make the start on Friday night, spending the night at the camp. The others joined them on Saturday, leaving the Scout house at 7 o'clock in the morning. The trip was hot, all this part of the world being still under the spell of the great heat. Camp Claghorn, with its beautiful surroundings, its lake and trees, seemed like an oasis in the desert to the dusty travelers reaching it, and it did not take long for all concerned to shed their Scout togs and jump into their bathing suits and then into the cooling waters.

And then came the dinner call. Oh! boy, how those Scouts did eat. Chairman Claghorn had prepared sandwiches, baked beans, iced tea and hot coffee for the daddies and they, too, went at it with a will.

It was getting next to nature in a good, old-fashioned way. Everyone enjoyed the outing. All have pleasant recollections of a day well spent, far from the heat of the city, its scorching sidewalks and melting streets. None of the boys seemed to regret that they had left their schoolrooms behind. Not a man pined over his absence from office or mart.

The troopers went via Camden and then through New Jersey. A

JACK JEFFERIES WEDS

Narberth Girl Is Bride of Former Princeton Athlete.

J. Howard Jefferies, Jr., former Princeton basketball and baseball captain, and Miss Martha Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh G. Martin, of Wayne avenue, were married last Thursday in New York.

The marriage was with the knowledge and consent of both families, according to the mother of the bride and the father of the bridegroom.

"My daughter and Mr. Jefferies have known each other several years and their intention to be married in New York quietly, without elaborate wedding plans and ceremony, was entirely agreeable to us," said Mrs. Martin. "They are on their honeymoon in the Catskills and will not be home for two weeks."

The bridegroom's father is an official of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company. His son also is in the insurance business. The Jefferies home is on Polo avenue, Bryn Mawr. They formerly resided on Narberth avenue.

"Jack" Jefferies was the captain of the Princeton basketball team of 1922-23. He also was captain of the 1923 baseball team. He was a catcher. After his graduation he went to the Hill School to teach and coach, and last fall he was coach at Swarthmore Preparatory School. He is a player on the Narberth Main Line League baseball team and has been for the past two years.

His wife, known generally to her friends as "Patsy," is a graduate of the Narberth High School and of the Virginia College for Women, at Roanoke.

THE MAN WHO COUNTS

It is not the critic who counts; not the man who points out how strong men stumbled, or where the door of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena; whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs and comes short again and again, because there is no effort without error and shortcoming; who does actually strive to do the deed; who knows the great enthusiasms, the great devotions, spends himself in a worthy cause; who at the best knows in the end the triumph of high achievement; and who at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly; so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat.

DIRECTORS

The character of a bank's management has much to do with gaining the public confidence so necessary to its success.

It is the Board of Directors which determines the principles governing a bank's management.

The Narberth National Bank is fortunate in having a list of Directors comprising not only men of standing, who have made a success of their own lines, but men who, because the majority of them make their homes in this community, have naturally a very keen and personal interest in promoting the growth of such a local institution.

They bring to the Bank the wealth of their experience in the outside financial and commercial world, and the warmth of their feeling for the inner, human-appealing world of their home community.

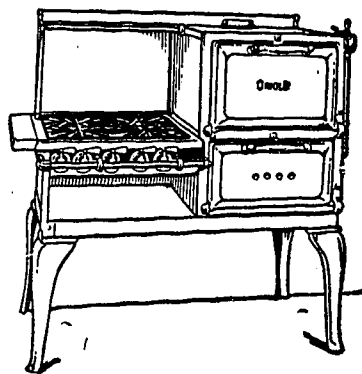

Following are the names of these men:

Dr. Clarence T. Faries, Windsor & Narberth Ave., Narberth, Pa.	Ralph S. Dunne, 318 Grayling Ave., Narberth, Pa.
Fletcher W. Stites, 413 Haverford Ave., Narberth, Pa.	F. vonA. Cabeen, Jr., Haverford, Pa.

Summer Reading

New Books Being Added to Local Library.

New books are being added to the library all during the summer. The following will soon be on the shelves:

"The Shadows of the Gloomy East," by Frederick Ossendowski. These sketches of the Russia people as they are now from the most remote villages to the palaces in the great cities, read more like the tales from the middle ages than an authentic account of a people of the enlightened twentieth century. The tales of statecraft, witchcraft, heathenism mixed with Christianity, the wild orgies of mysticism, which has a tremendous hold on rich and poor, cultured and ignorant, are unbelievable. The author has, he says, "attempted to lay bare before the civilized world the true face of the Russian people which must be enlightened, converted to Christianity, to European culture, strengthened in true morality, then, only, then, be admitted to the great comity of the nations." More absorbing than fiction, this book will hold the reader as Dr. Ossendowski did in "Beasts, Men and God" and "Man and Mystery in Asia."

Are you giving a play and are puzzled as to the costumes? Elizabeth B. Grimboll and Rhen Wells will tell you just how it is done in "Costuming a Play." There are chapters on color, materials in use and styles during each period from early Egyptian up to mid-Victorian and civil war, with a special chapter on religious drama. There are pictures and designs showing just how to make the costume from head-dress to foot coverings. If you are not planning a play this book is of interest in showing the development of dress from simple tunic skirt and cloak of ancient times to the present mode and the effect that climate and history have on fashions.

"The Boy Who Followed Ben Franklin," another of Edward K. Bok's fascinating biographies. This is the career of Cyrus H. K. Curtis adapted from Mr. Bok's book, "A Man from Maine," showing the rise of a poor Yankee lad to one of the most successful publishers. Like the great Franklin, who in an earlier period left New England to find fortune in Philadelphia and by industry and thrift made himself famous and the city of his adoption better for his being here.

This book is dedicated to the American boy who is willing to believe that "work and you win; save and you succeed; loaf and you lose."

A COOL CAMP

number returned by way of Wilmington; and boys, Pennsylvania's rolling country never looked better to them after the hot trip in the morning.

A long ferry trip to Wilmington, sitting up in the bow, if you can call the forward-going end of a ferry boat by that name, and then West Chester. The cooling effects of the river trip and later the over-the-hills-to-Narberth route made the brief wait in Salem. Phew! the thought of the heat in that-er-town almost bakes this typewriter as we tell about it, seem like a stop-over in the infernal regions. Was ever a place as hot as Salem? Echo answers nev—er.

Yes, thinking it over again, the best part of the day was the time spent with our host in his camp. Next to that the homeward journey through old Pennsylvania. We have forgotten the morning ride over the arid sands. If we ever own a car of our own we hope the chairman will invite us out to his camp; and we'll make our approach through Pennsylvania and by way of Mr. DuPont's town.

It's a great thing to be a Boy Scout in Narberth and almost as great a thing to be a Scout's daddy. If you haven't a Scout in your home adopt them all and join the Fathers' Association.

May be one of these days the Fathers' Association will be invited to visit Mr. Claghorn's camp. This is not a threat or a promise. It's not official in any sense of the word; but honest, all ye fathers, it's a grand an' glorious thought, and who can tell? We can't, but here's hoping, anyway.

CROSS-TOWN SERVICE, PLUS

WE ARE now operating close to a million telephones in Pennsylvania. Outside there are fifteen million.

Our Pennsylvania toll-service network totals 350,000 miles of wire—three-quarters of it in cables. Tying the cities and towns of the United States together, and with Canada and Cuba, are over five million miles of Bell System wire.

This vast telephone plant rounds out the true complement of your telephone service.

Important as is your cross-town communication, it is not all-important. Your more than fifty million toll calls over this company's lines last year, not including the more distant connections, is impressive evidence.

That this service should be kept reliable is of first importance. There are occasional storms, both winter and summer, which the best of telephone plant along the turnpikes cannot withstand. When it goes down, the whole Plant Department force goes into emergency action—by the hundreds or by the thousands, as need be. And their record is one of yeoman service.

Even if the trouble is north, south or west beyond our boundaries, the same force is ready. Only last winter a call for help came from the Middle West, and in twenty-four hours a battalion, with its equipment, was on the train.

All-around reliable telephone service, across the street or the State or the Nation, is the standard service of today.
